

Our hockey in good hands

THE future of Australian hockey appears to be bright, judging by the recent success of the Kew Hockey Club.

Fourteen players from the club have been selected to represent Victoria in coming competitions, and two have been chosen to captain state sides.

Those selected to represent Victoria are Fiona Allan, Cameron Black, Peter Bunting, Mark Davis, Blake Flemming, Iain Rowe, James Grant, Ben Frahn, Emma Symington, Tom Allan, Sally Smart, Emily Sauvarin, Tom Clements and Hamish Nelson.

A spokesman said the club's philosophy was to give children of all ages the chance to play hockey.

State turf: Kew Hockey Club has produced 14 state representatives. 006ST318